Adversaries can come in many guises sometimes teaming up sometimes using simple methods sometimes sophisticated, always potentially destructive if allowed to be successful.

ADVERSARIAL ASSESSMENTS

Taking an adversarial view of your current defensive posture often provides new perspectives allowing your team to take the necessary action to become Harker Hardened™. The Ascot Barclay team offer a hybrid approach to testing your organisation. Recognising that an attacker will exploit weakness and gaps in your Operational Technologies (OT) and process's, your critical infrastructure and your Information Technology (IT) Systems as well as through compromising staff members, indeed where there is a gap or the opportunity to combine attack techniques that's where we often find the bad guys.
